Preparing for University

If you go away to university without being able to cook the most simple meal for yourself, (56)_____ as an omelette or a quick pasta dish, you are going to have a problem. Before (57)_____ home, ask a parent or a family member to teach you a few basic things. You should have at least 4 or 5 easy dishes you can cook yourself. There are also some great student cookbooks available that can give you ideas for healthy but (58)_____ meals. As well as cooking, knowing how to wash your own clothes is another basic but (59)_____ life skill that you will need. It is surprising how many students arrive at university and have never used a washing machine before! If you do not know how to wash your clothes (60)_____, your favourite white shirt could end up being two sizes too small or even turning pink! A quick lesson from mum or dad before you go will help you (61)_____ the future. Living away from home might make you feel (62)_____ and nervous sometimes, especially if you are studying very (63)_____ from home. That is why it is important to try to make friends when you are there. The other students will be in the same position as you. Try to (64)_____ lots of clubs during the first week. Make an effort to chat to your neighbours and spend time in the shared areas of your student (65)_____ as much as possible, like the kitchen or lounge. You will begin to make friends and some of these could become friends for life. University is a big change but also a very exciting adventure!
